Lisa Ihm ,EA

Lisa Ihm, EA has been teaching seminars nationwide since 1986. She began teaching seminars about debt forgiveness back in the 1990's when we had the last wave of foreclosures; a small wave compared to our current one. We face a whole new set of problems this time around because of the creative financing of the last decade. Lisa will help you understand the practical application of these complex rules to real life situations, and her worksheets and flowcharts will walk you through the complicated process, step by step. Rather than reciting the rules, she goes below the surface to determine how situations will affect real life taxpayers, who all have unique and interesting situations.

She has taught seminars for the following organizations:

CSEA
CSTC
NATP
