

Dear Members,

It's so easy to slow down after April 15. My apologies for the lateness of this bulletin.

January saw a small audience enjoying Bonny Hoyle of FTB. She's one of the people who give government service a good name. She walked us through the cactus patch of Head of Household filing status – which is trickier than you might think.

Arriving May 20 is one of our most popular speakers, Anthony Bustos, currently CSTC State President. His topic is discussed on the front page.

Also arriving May 20, as mentioned in the January bulletin, will be increased dinner meeting prices. Sorry, folks, but the restaurant has cost increases. New prices are:

$30 for members who make reservations by noon the Friday before the event

$38 for nonmembers, or members who make reservations later

Bargain opportunity: If you were not a member last year, and join CSTC in May or June, your membership will be for up to 14 months – through June, 2009.

Hoping to see you soon, and often,

Teresa Brady
President
Sacramento Chapter

Why join, or renew? These are a few coming attractions:

June 2-4, Symposium, Reno: This event combines many education topics in three high-powered days.

Interested in carpooling? Let me know. If my own schedule doesn't match yours, I may be able to put you in touch someone else who does. A tank of gas is precious, these days.

Have a door prize to offer? Think of something special about you, your practice, or your community to share with attendees from other parts of the state. Last year, Jeff Slater contributed two superb model cars, and I sent candy from a Folsom factory.

June 5, Leadership Workshop, Reno: Open to any member, free, includes lunch. All current and future officers are encouraged to learn more about how CSTC functions at Chapter and State levels. We can use more leaders for our chapter, so check the attached flyer and RSVP.

June 24, Dinner Meeting, Sacramento: Round-table discussion. Bring your questions, challenges, and triumphs to share. Valuable for new and long-time preparers alike. 1 hr. Federal, 1 hr. California CTEC# 1000-CE-2420

July 29, Dinner Meeting, Sacramento: New Speaker Night. CSTC is offering $25 toward education for each first-time speaker who speaks for at least 15 minutes and prepares at least a one-page outline. I'm working on a topic – so can you! Who knows: your presentation might be just what another chapter is looking for! It won't matter if two pick the same topic, because we each approach tax preparation in our own way. Call me soon to be one of, hopefully, six presenters that night. I'll need to know the topics so we can get appropriate hours, Federal and/or California.

SOCIETY NEWS: "2012 BY 2012": That's the theme for doubling the Society's membership within five years. Reach out to invite someone to join us. Sometimes they only need a nudge.
