We invite you to participate in an open round table discussion!

This will give you an opportunity to discuss with other tax consultants challenging and interesting tax issues you may have recently encountered.

You will have the opportunity to better define some of the most recent changes in the new tax laws and how they apply to your clients. Get ideas from other tax preparers who face the same challenges as you!

Although no education credit will be offered, the information you gain could be very helpful in your practice!
